Organ Show Set Tonight In Gardena

An organ concert featuring the first "moving stereo" organ ever built will be held tonight, 7:30, in the Peary Junior High School Auditorium, 1415 Gardena Blvd. The event is sponsored by Tallford Organ Studios of Torrance and Bellflower, who were one of only 15 organ dealers to win the Organ Merchandisers Award in recognition of customer service and satisfaction for the fiscal year.

At the console of the Lowrey Coronation organ, which affords many stereo high-fidelity effects never heard before, will be Frank Renaut, who in addition to his duties as organist with the Trinity Reformed Church in York, Pa., has his own television show.

Beginners at the Lowrey organ can instantly duplicate the sounds of clarinet, trombone, guitar, vibraphone, accordion, music box, violin and other orchestral instruments. Renaut will answer questions after Sunday's concert concerning the full line of Lowrey organs for home and professional use.

Bruinsma Against Trade Bill

Ted Bruinsma, candidate for Congress from the 17th District, said yesterday the trade bill passed by the 87th Congress gives our President the power of life or death over American industry.

Bruinsma said his opponent voted through ignorance, or under terrific Administration political pressure, for a measure that provides no guarantee of any increased U.S. export, but could destroy many businesses. He said that Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges had predicted that 800 American industries will need Federal assistance due to the effects of the first five years of the trade bill.

BRUINSMA added that the Government aid consists of $65 per week for a year for workers thrown out of jobs and loans to industries to "go into competition with existing industries in making their products." He said many workers would undergo retraining and be forced to move long distances to take up new jobs.

He said the most damaging part of the bill is that the so-called adjustments provided for in the bill encourage U.S. negotiators to make "soft" agreements with foreign nations to the detriment of our industries.

THE CANDIDATE pointed out that there are dozens of domestic taxes foreign businesses use to add to the cost of U.S. goods after tariffs have been paid. He said any tariff concessions can be overcome. He cited the case of a 20 per cent reduction in Italian tariffs on U.S. autos, and the imposition of a road tax which boosted the selling price in Italy back to its original level. "Meanwhile," he said, "we let their goods in 20 per cent cheaper."

Bruinsma said he wanted to go to Congress to help make the repairs that will inevitably be needed on the trade bill.

In a program to share farm abundance, CARE is sending an average of 22 pounds of milk, flour and corn meal in each of its $1 packages going to 20 countries. Hungry refugee children are the recipients.

Harbor Area Boy Scouts Plan Dinner

The Harbor district of the Boy Scouts of America is now planning the 1962 annual Meeting and Recognition Dinner, to be held Wednesday, Nov. 7, in the dining room of the San Pedro Hacienda Hotel.

Appointed as this year's dinner committee chairman, is Howard A. Wood, M. D., of the Harbor area. His many years of volunteer scouting have truly given him the experience to serve as chairman in this year's annual dinner. It is his responsibility to see that all details for a successful dinner are completed by his sub-chairmen who are responsible for decoration, publicity, entertainment and recognition.

This year's recognition dinner will salute the many cub, scout and explorer unit leaders for their service and support of the scout program in the Harbor District. They are also given recognition for their efforts in guiding the men of the future to grow stronger for their country.

It is planned that the entertainment will include an evening of scouting fun with the guests joining in on some good old fashioned campfire songs.

S. D. Freeway Extended to Valley Vista

Completion of the San Diego Freeway from West Los Angeles across the mountains to the San Fernando Valley is expected late in December. This extends the freeway roughly from Sunset Boulevard to Valley Vista Boulevard, and includes grading as far north as Nordhoff Street.

The job is one of the largest ever undertaken in Southern California in terms of cost and amount of earth excavated. Approximately 18 million cubic yards of earth will have been moved and much of it has gone into the construction of other freeways.

The remaining portion of the San Diego Freeway north to its junction with the Golden State Freeway near San Fernando is due for completion about the middle of next year.

END HORSE AND BUGGY VOTE COUNTING METHODS

Since 1910 only two men—father and son—both Republicans, have been elected Secretary of State of California. The present Secretary of State, who is the CHIEF ELECTION OFFICER of California, has allowed our election procedures to become so out-dated and inefficient that California's long slow vote counts after every election are notorious throughout the nation.
